STUDENTS' SEMINAR 2021

Call for Papers

Doing Local History

7 October 2021, 10.30 am onwards

The Department of History, Jhargram Raj College is delighted to announce a virtual students' seminar on the local history of the Jangal Mahal region. The seminar seeks to explore, investigate, and document the neighbourhoods. Often history is taught with a focus on national and international events but ignores the places students engage with most, their neighbourhoods. Involving students in local history helps them to learn to analyse their place in larger events. By understanding their part in history, people become directly involved in their studies of the past. By focusing on local history, students will learn to question history as it has been taught and history as it is being made around them.

Students of Jhargram Raj College are invited to send their abstracts on this theme within 250-300 words in word/pdf format to history.jrc@gmail.com by 27 September 2021. The selected participants will be required to submit a working draft of the paper (word limit 1500-2000) by 4 October 2021.
